Description

We are working on Mobile Ticketing App. It is an application where a user can book movie tickets online. User is also given suggestions based on ratings from various social media platforms. In our project, we are suggesting movies based on analysis of twitter feed. We analyse data of the users and get reviews based on the analysis.

Profile of Users

We analyse twitter feed to give movie reviews. So aim of the project is for the end-users who are into social media. This data is then used for suggesting movies.
